OHIO NEWS.

HAMILTON.

Nov. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Planery of Mason, O. spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Gabbard last week.—The greatest fire disaster Hamilton ever saw occurred last week. The four and one-half story Mehrum Building, with the exception of the Rentschler Building was the handsomest building on High street, was consumed entirely. The stores of the C. D. Mathes Co., drygoods, and Holbrook Bros., drygoods, were totally destroyed. For a time it seemed as if a large part of the business district must be lost. The Second National Bank and the T. V. Howell & Sons store were damaged. The losses obtainable were as follows: Mehrum Building, total loss, cost, $75,000, was insured; C. D. Mathes & Co., drygoods, total loss, stock worth $150,000, well insured; Holbrook Bros., drygoods total loss, stock worth from $100,000 to $150,000, well insured; Miami Shoe Company practically destroyed by fire and water; George H. Voss grocery store, damaged by fire and water, insured; W. J. Rabb, tailor, badly damaged by fire and water; Marks Outfitting Co., badly damaged by fire and water; Costello Confectionery Co., damaged by water and smoke other adjoining buildings were slightly damaged. The total loss was about $450,000. It occurred next door to the great fire that destroyed the Howell store four years ago. It was much larger and fiercer and occasioned a greater peril to surrounding property. Mayor Thomas sent to Cincinnati for aid. Two companies were sent with engines on a special train but arrived too late to do any good. This fire occurred Tuesday night, Wednesday night a small printing establishment was burned.—The mortgage which has been against the Y. M. C. A. was also burned. An elaborate banquet was given in honor of the occasion. About 200 members were present. Judge Belden presiding as toastmaster and President Hughes of De Pauw as the guest of honor. President Hughes and ex-Governor Campbell made fitting speeches. The meeting was held in the Hamilton Club room.—President Danby of Cincinnati University visited one more Sunday at the Y. M. C. A. in this month. Last Sunday his subject was "Take Aim" and was ably dealt with.

Students' Journal

Containing Breezy Notes of Com- Events and Past Trials and Triumphs of Berea Students

President Frost delivered the Monday lecture to the Upper Chapel students this week. Taking for his subject "The Conflicts of Our Times." He cited to the three chief conflicts of the future:

First, The conflict between luxury and the strenuous life.

Second, The conflict between unbelief and faith.

Third, Oppression and justice.

Prof. Raine's lecture in the lower Chapel on "Eyes" was greatly enjoyed. Some of the students said it was the best lecture they have ever heard.

Several have their eyes opened wider and are seeing things they didn't see before.

The Phi Delta Society elected Mr. L. J. Cook as a second member of their editorial staff, so that now each one having the other to help him keep awake, we may expect some semi-occasional reports as to its doings. Here, at any rate are the first sweepings of the new broom:

It is not always the machine that makes the most noise that turns out the most work. Phi Delta has been accused of sleeping, but assertions don't alter the facts in the case. As a result of the Phi Delta spirit, the new carpet and tables costing something like ninety dollars were put in by Phi Deltians but by a large number of ladies.

Howard Clark, Jno. Welch and Seward Marsh, assisted by other members of the society are mainly responsible for the successful completion of the improvements. All had the privilege of "walking the carpet" without fear of the dean's displeasure and the ardent endeavors of the orchestra were appreciated. Our Yankee visitor, who wanted a letter written seemed quite pleased to see how fast Scribbler Daily could write when he "kicked and licked" the stubborn mule. The scribe, to the amusement of the audience, was very much put out to have all his footsack left to wrap up hayseeds. After a well contested debate, Professor Josephine Robinson then rose to express her pleasure in the well rendered program and her sentiments seemed to be seconded by the rest of the ladies.

We should be glad to hear from old Phi Deltians who read the Citizen thru its editor.

On the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day is the great football game of the year. Then the College department plays the rest of the school. This will be one of the best and most evenly contested games of the year and there should be a large crowd out, not only to "root" for the chosen sides but to help the Athletic Association, as all the proceeds of the game go to liquidate the Association debt. Admission 25 cents and 15 cents.

LOVE.

By One Who Knows.
If we look back upon the word love we find that love was about the first emotion in the history of mankind. But we can't imagine Adam having an emotioner thought in his makeup that was opposed to love, for he had nothing to be dissatisfied with, and surely a man possessing the boundless mercies and providences that he did, could not help being filled with love for the Provider of these things. Of course, another element comes into his character when woman is created and his first thoughts may have been of love, for he very soon got into trouble on her account and he would have been a very strange man if at times, when he was toiling for his daily bread, and thought of the life of ease that he was formerly accustomed to, he had not felt some resentment in his heart. But resentment does not last and love does according to the Scriptural story.

Love is of such a vague comprehension that it is not possible to give a definition of it. One man may define love, and another may say that he doesn't half express it. If you stop every person you see and ask them to give you a definition for love, nine times out of ten you have got them in a tight corner. The average person may know what love is, but it is simply impossible for him or her as the case may be, to put it in words, and it is not possible to give such a definition of it. One man may define love, and another may say that he doesn't half express it.
